

AXIO Core Financials: Powered by AI

Faster deployment. Lower TCO.

AXIO is a rapid implementation and continuous support solution for Dynamics 365 Finance that leverages AI automations and agile processes to cut your project time and overall system costs.

Rapid Implementation

Configuration of a new financial system is an enormous undertaking. That's why more than half of financials deployments end up over scope, over budget, or both. But AXIO implementations have a 95% success rate, compared with a 68% industry average.

AXIO deployments are fundamentally different than traditional implementations because you start with a flexible, working financial system tested across thousands of implementations. Instead of wasting time building from the ground up, your implementation skips over customizations and business requirements planning that causes projects to balloon in scope and gets you working in your new system faster.

Pre-configuration packages help compress the planning process and dramatically accelerate implementation. AXIO comes with over 400 must-have processes grounded in best practices based on Velosio's experience with thousands of ERP deployments.

Companies leveraging the AXIO framework in their implementation process experience greater adoption by employees, more reliable systems performance and a reduction in total cost of ownership by 50% or more.

Streamlined support

Due to the lack of custom coding, future updates are smoother, faster and at a lower average annual cost—keeping your system operating at the best potential. Using integrated support thanks to Microsoft's systems allows you to have a single point of contact with complete access to and visibility into all aspects of your system, able to support you no matter what.
